Man found dead on U.S. 98 - Police seek clues

By BRENDA BUNTING
SUN Editor

The body of a former Belle Glade man was found last Wednesday, April 7, on U.S. 98, approximately 1/2 mile west of State Road 80 by people fishing in the area.

The body of Harvey Holloway, a black male, age 39, was taken to the Palm Beach County Medical Examiner's Office, according to Det. Sgt. John Russ with the Sheriff's Department.

Sgt. Russ said Mr. Holloway appeared to have been suffocated and the case is being investigated as a homicide.

Mr. Holloway was residing in Royal Palm Beach at the time of his death.

"Flash-Bang" device used to create diversion in drug bust

By BRENDA BUNTING

The Glades Multi-Agency Task Force drew a crowd April 7 at approximately 10:30 p.m. when they used a "Flash-Bang" device to create a diversion as they served a search warrant at the home of a suspected drug dealer at 1801 Palm Street, Belle Glade.

The "Flash-Bang" is a diversionary device that officers say emits a loud noise and light and reduces the injury to police and suspects while officers are trying to enter.

trying to enter.

"We're sorry it disturbs the neighbors, but it's better than having a police officer possibly injured," said Lt. Richard Browning of the Sheriff's Office.

As a result of the raid, police arrested Marcello Maldonado, 55, for possession of cocaine and possession of cocaine with intent to sell.

Maldonado was booked into the County Jail and bond was set at $3,000.

Mechanical harvesting proves successful

The Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida completed its first all-mechanical sugarcane harvest this week with excellent results, according to Cooperative President George H. Wedgworth.

Despite much wetter conditions than usual which lengthened the season to 158 days, the longest harvest season in 20 years, the mill experienced good production and the resulting yield of raw sugar was 10.84%, slightly less than the company's record of 10.95% set in 1988-89.

The Cooperative harvested sugarcane grown on 89,370 acres of members' land producing 2,650,000 tons of cane yielding 286,700 tons of raw sugar, raw value. This compares to last year's record production of 2,746,000 tons of cane yielding 300,000 tons of raw sugar, raw value.

"By using a combination of different types of mechanical harvesters coupled with skilled operators, we have been able to overcome all of the difficulties associated with successfully harvesting sugarcane on soft muck soils," Mr. Wedgworth said.

"Additionally, the capital investments made in technological improvements at the processing plant have paid off since they have provided us with the ability to obtain higher sugar yields.

"Our growers are to be commended for producing an excellent crop despite wet, warm conditions," he said. "We're also proud of the accomplishments of our field personnel in protecting the growers' fields under these adverse climate conditions and our mill people in successfully dealing with the higher level of non-sugar matter entering the processing plant as a result of wet field conditions and 100% mechanical harvesting."

Three car accident...Three people were injured in an accident in front of Royal's Plaza on S.W. 16th Street last Thursday when Oliver Toppin of Belle Glade pulled out of Depot Services' parking lot into the path of a car driven by Shirley Rumph, also of Belle Glade. The impact of the collision caused Rumph's car to spin off the roadway into the parking lot of Royal's Plaza, hitting Lovetta Porter's 1988 Pontiac. Two passengers in one of the cars, Cottrell Brown, 74, and Norma Forrester, 49, both of Belle Glade were taken to Glades General Hospital. Also treated and released was Mrs. Rumph's three-year-old son. Mr. Toppin was charged with failure to use due care and Mrs. Rumph was cited for operating a motor vehicle without a driver's license. Latest SWIM version released with updates on water quality

By Twila Valentine

The South Florida Water Management District recently released the approved Surface Water Improvement and Management (SWIM) Plan update for Lake Okechobee. The document's final version was approved by the governing board of the district in January of this year.

The new SWIM Plan includes updates of the water quality and public information elements of the 1989 Interim SWIM Plan. In addition, five new elements have been added to the Plan. They include: Environmental Resources; Water Supply; Flood Protection; Recreation; and, Navigation. Each of the seven elements have been designed with goals, objectives and strategies, as well as proposed programs to maintain and improve the water quality and the management issues pertaining to the second largest freshwater lake in the United States.

The executive summary of the plan notes that the lake serves a number of regional functions and objectives, many of which may conflict with one another. Historically, the charge of the district has been to manage the lake in such a manner as to balance the water supply and flood protection needs against environmental requirements. One of the major issues discussed in the plan is the need to develop a more protective and comprehensive management approach for addressing competing lake management goals and objectives.

The goals, objectives and strategies for each of the seven elements were developed and based on the various issues identified within each element. Direction has also been provided by the Florida Legislature through the 1987 SWIM Act.

Various state and federal agencies which also have control of certain elements of lake management have also been considered in the development of the final plan.

Goals for each element described the desired final result.

Objectives represent the direction that needs to be taken to achieve the goal.

Strategies are the specific means or methods which will be used to achieve the objective.

The final chapter of the plan outlines the funding that will be required during the next two fiscal years to provide funds for the various projects and programs. The total which the district estimates it will need for this phase is $2.204 million. Other projects and programs pertaining to the management of the lake will be funded through other revenue sources.

Before final adoption of the plan in January 1993, a series of public meetings, workshops and hearings were held to solicit comments from the public and the plan was reviewed by state and federal agencies, local governments, elected officials, special interest groups, environmental organizations and interested citizens.

Comments covered many of the elements of the plan, but

Black Gold Jubilee events kick off this weekend

By BRENDA BUNTING

SUN Editor

Enthusiasm is building as the 15th annual Black Gold Jubilee events begin this week.

The theme for this year's event is in keeping with the city's logo "Her Soil Is Her Fortune" and Jubilee '93 will be a celebration of the unique "muck" soil of the Glades.

The Jubilee tennis tournament has been ongoing all this week with the finals expected this weekend.

The ever-popular Little Mr. and Miss Black Gold contest will be a chance for parents to show off the real treasures in the Glades - the children. This event will be tonight at 7:30 p.m. at the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center.

The second annual Night Golf Tournament will begin at 7 p.m. Saturday night. Special glow-in-the-dark golf balls make this event fun for all golfers.

Sam and Polly Williams, organizers of the annual Fishing and Casting Contest say they are expecting a record crowd at Saturday's event. They urge local children to arrive early to register. Last year, almost 500 kids participated. "We've gotten a record number of applications from the coast this year," said Mrs. Williams, "but not too many applications are in yet from local children."

Old-time gospel music will fill the First Baptist Church April 22 at 7:30 p.m. as local talent entertain a usually packed church for this event.

Fourteen teens from the area will be vying for the title of Harvest Queen on Friday, April 23 at 7:30 p.m. at the Dolly Hand Center. This event is normally a sell-out, so buy your tickets early.

The Children's Pet Show will be April 23 at 5:30 p.m. at Morse Park. All other events will be held at the Belle Glade Marina on April 24 and 25.

Glades women attend Hospice brunch for "Breakfast with the Stars"

More than 300 Hospice of Palm Beach County volunteers from throughout the county attended a recognition brunch April 3. The event, called "Breakfast with the Stars," acknowledges the tremendous contribution volunteers make to Hospice, a non-profit agency caring for terminally ill patients and their families.

"You have generously given thousands of hours of your precious time to help others -- over 33,000 reported hours last year and countless unreported hours," John J. Brogan, chairman of the Hospice Board of Directors and a volunteer, told the audience. "I hope you will be volunteers for Hospice for many years to come. In our eyes, you are truly shining stars!"

More than 700 volunteers have donated time to Hospice in the areas of patient care, clerical and financial support during the past year.

The Golden Glades Guild of Hospice is located at 406 S.E. Avenue E, Suite 101, Belle Glade.

Bythwood

Navy Petty Officer 3rd Class Farrell V. Evans, son of Daniel S. and Elouise H. Bythwood of Belle Glade recently returned from a six-month deployment to the Western Pacific and Persian Gulf.

The submarine tender spent three months in the Persian Gulf supporting Operation Southern Watch and completing a total of 55 availabilities consisting of more than 5,000 repair jobs on 30 different warships and auxiliary support ships.

Among these was the first availability of a U.S. nuclear-powered submarine in the Persian Gulf.

The tender also conducted the first successful refueling attempted by a submarine tender while underway when it transferred approximately 21,000 gallons of fuel to USS Fanning.

Evans visited liberty ports in Guam, Singapore, Malaysia, Hong Kong, United Arab Emirates and Bali, Indonesia.

The 1987 graduate of Glades Central High School joined the Navy in June, 1987.

Updated SWIM version released

many centered on the phosphorus loadings and the regulated water levels. "...suggests a gradual downward trend in the phosphorus loading of the lake. The update does not make clear which of the actions taken north of the lake (dairy buy out to BMP implementation) accounts for the changes in phosphorus loading," commented Charles Lee, vice president of the Audubon Society.

Kenneth Kuhl of Lykes Brothers presented an issue paper in which several issues were raised concerning the plan. They expressed concern that water samples contain aquatic plant roots which elevate the phosphorus concentrations to three or four times what samples from the same area without roots contain.

They claim that water samples taken during high flow periods contain suspended soil particles to which phosphorus may be attached, thus artificially elevating phosphorus readings. They claim that water samples taken during seasonal peaks, the average concentrations are biased.

"As with past Lake Okeechobee SWIM Plans, this plan continues to lack a sense of integration and a commitment to specific actions to achieve stated goals," states a memorandum of Herbert H. Zebuth of the Department of Environmental Regulation. "No solutions are proposed in the Lake Okeechobee Plan except for phosphorus reduction."

A letter from the Florida Sugar Cane League expresses concern that the requirement for phosphorus reduction are not going to be met by the current program. In their letter they submit their plan to allow a discharger in the basin, to receive credit for phosphorus reduction in another part of the basin.

Their letter also claims that modifying lake levels will have a substantial water supply impact for all of South Florida including the Everglades.

In another memorandum from Tim Powell of the Department of Environmental Regulation, he notes the sampling method at the dairies is not flow-weighted so it is difficult in some cases to determine how well a farm is doing overall.

"There appears to have been substantial reduction in concentrations coming off the farms, however, without corresponding reductions at the lake," Mr. Powell states. "...less money be allocated for research and more money to be made available for cost-sharing, including additional BMP's at dairies."

Kent Bowen, president of McArthur Farms, Inc. commented, "Lake Okeechobee dairy farmers have done everything that has been asked of them, and at no small financial and psychological cost."

He went on to say that further reduction in the concentration standards would have a substantial impact on the economics of the dairy farm and the community.

"...the lake's drainage basin encompasses 4,600 square miles. The remaining 30 dairies occupy (and I'm being generous) 61.5 square miles of land or one and one-third percent of that 4,600 miles. How could any rational person believe that closing more dairy farms would change Lake Okeechobee's situation?"

He also noted that the removal of 14,039 head of dairy cattle through the buy out program amounted to an annual reduction of 333 tons of phosphorus.

"The Last Supper" draws large crowd at C.P. Methodist Church

Last Thursday evening, 12 good men and their master met in an upper room and shared a meal together. They were all apparently in fellowship and of like mind and heart until their master announced that one of them would betray him.

The Canal Point Methodist Church thus dramatized Leonardo DaVinci's famous painting "The Last Supper," as each of the disciples, one at a time, came to life and spoke his innermost thoughts in response to the words of Jesus, "One of you will betray me."

It was a moving presentation, with communion served immediately following. The presentation was made to a packed church and all who came left deeply touched by the events of the momentous night so long ago.

Lake Harbor woman injured while pulling out of Palm Glades Apartments

Trauma Hawk was called to transport a Lake Harbor woman to St. Mary's Hospital last Friday after she pulled out in front of another car on State Road 80 at the entrance to Palm Glades Apartments.

Injured was Charlene Powell, 57, who was driving a 1988

Pontiac. Four passengers in Powell's car, Joyce Ricketts, 27, her 7-month-old son, John Tavous Mullins, and Jomisha Morrell, 8, all of Palm Glades Apartments and Sam Bent, 13 of South Bay were treated and released at Glades General Hospital.

According to Belle Glade Lt. Jack Fulwider, the accident happened when Powell pulled out of Palm Glades into the path of a car driven by Pamela Williams, 29, of Tropical Mobile Home Park in Clewiston. Williams, who was driving a 1985 Mercury, was not injured.

Motorcycle accident kills Belle Glade man

Godfrey Solomon, 21, of Belle Glade died from injuries he sustained last Sunday at the corner of Avenue E and Eight Street after his motorcycle hit a car. The impact threw him into the oncoming traffic and he was hit by another car.

Police say neither the driver of the car nor the driver of the one that hit Mr. Solomon were charged in the accident.

Campground, or mobile home park?

I was out to the Belle Glade Marina yesterday. That place looks like a mobile home park. Extensive (sic) trailers, satellite dishes, utility sheds.

I thought you had to have a permit to put a utility shed up? That looks like a mobile home park, not a recreation park.

I saw one trailer out there that has a fence up around it and a sign that says "private property." I thought the city owned that. Take a look at what's going on out there at the Marina.

Note: Belle Glade's City Manager Lomax Harrelle replies:

In response to comments concerning the Belle Glade Marina Campground, most of the newer model trailers are equipped with power extensions known in the industry as power/in-power out capability. Several of our campers have this type trailer.

Although many campers now are equipped with satellite dishes that fold down for traveling, the only two permanent satellite dishes at the campground belong to the Park Manager and Assistant Park Manager.

Effective 1985, the number of utility sheds at the Campground cannot exceed 5% of the total campsites. Presently, the Campground is in compliance with this rule. The Planning and Building Department is currently researching their records to ascertain that every shed has a permit.

At one trailer site, a plastic chain has been stretched across to protect an electric box, but Mike Underwood, Campground Director, states that he has not been able to locate a fenced area at the Marina with a "private property" sign. If the anonymous caller will notify City Hall as to the location of the sign, he will see that it is promptly removed.

Red light, green light

If I had a "Wish List" of things I'd like to see in Belle Glade, one of the small, but important things I would like to see is a traffic light on South Main Street in front of the Winn-Dixie Shopping Center.

Thanks. That's all I wanted to say.

Letters to the Editor

No changes in cable service or prices for now

Dear Editor:

On April 1, 1993, the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) announced new rules governing cable television pricing. The FCC did not actually issue the specific rules that will affect cable prices, but rather, it indicated in limited detail what the rules will cover.

One aspect of the rules calls for a 120-day rate "freeze" for all cable services and equipment except for premium services (such as HBO). Thus, the rate increase we notified you of in March will not take effect until the period of the freeze ends. We are in the process of communicating this same message to our customers.

We would also like to take this opportunity to point out that despite what has been reported in various news media, there is no automatic rollback in basic cable prices yet in effect. The FCC's announcement discussed such a possibility, but any reduction in the basic rates we charge is some months away because we cannot determine the effect of this ruling on us until the FCC issues what is referred to as a "benchmark formula."

As soon as we can determine the effect of this ruling we will proceed to comply with it.

We will not be making any changes in our channel line-ups on May 1st, which affects channel additions and/or other planned changes.

During the next several months we will be communicating the details of the new rules to our customers, elected officials and area news outlets. Our hope is that we can implement the operational changes required by the FCC rules with as little disruption to our customers as possible.

Cordially,
Douglas G. Kelly
General Manager

people used this opportunity to view and utilize our property.

We were pleasantly surprised with the response from the public, our residents and the local news and municipal agencies.

As per our discussion, you assured me that your newspaper would cover our open house and assist us with our endeavors to correct the perception of Palm Glade Apartments.

It is unfortunate that you were not able to attend our function and it is also unfortunate that we were not able to meet as you had requested. I was counting on your newspaper's participation with this event. I am truly sorry that you could not have utilized this opportunity to cover a truly positive event.

Sincerely,

Editor's response: Unfortunately, I was unable to attend the open house, although I understand it was very successful and people were impressed with the improvements made at Palm Glades.

We did, however have a reporter at the event. He took pictures of the ribbon cutting ceremony, but they did not turn out well and were not used in the newspaper.

Thanks

Dear Editor:

A hearty "Thank You" to everyone who helped to make our Easter Egg Hunt a very, very successful one. Participants laughed with glee as they found the eggs that were hidden in the nearby grass around the Senior Citizen Center.

This is but one of the many recreational activities that is provided monthly at the senior center.

Disappointed in coverage

Dear Editor:

Five tips to help you conserve energy and make a difference this Earth Day

With Earth Day on its way (April 22), Florida Power & Light Company is reminding consumers how to save energy and money in their homes by taking simple steps that require little effort.

"Earth Day is a time to start changing your energy usage habits," said Gary Koester, FPL spokesman. "You can do it one day at a time. If you start taking energy-efficient measures with Earth Day in mind, you may modify your lifestyle altogether."

Here's a sampling of five no-cost measures consumers can take to save:

- Set your thermostat at 78 degrees during peak summer months.
- Keep your water heater set at 120 degrees.
- Use overall "energy common sense" around the home. Reduce the number of times the refrigerator door is opened daily and the amount of time it remains open. Likewise, don't open the oven door too often while cooking - oven temperature drops 25-50 degrees each time the door is opened.
- Wash pots and pans in the dishwasher as opposed to washing them by hand.
- Consider having an energy

"audit" conducted in your home to determine where you may be wasting energy dollars.

For more information on how you can conserve energy in your home, call 1-800-DIAL-FPL (1-800-342-5375) extension 58, and ask for a free "Guide to Energy Efficient Living" brochure.

By calling this number, you can also schedule a free home energy survey to learn how to add to your home's overall energy-efficiency. If the survey shows your home needs improvements, you may qualify for as much as $1,600 in help from FPL.

Ask Dr. Boltson

Dr. David Boltson is the associate director of the Western Palm Beach County Mental Health Clinic in Belle Glade, and is a licensed psychologist in private practice in Lake Worth.

Dear Readers:

"Have you ever felt tired or depressed? Did you ever wish you could just stay in bed all day long and not go to work? Do you sometimes envy the personal or professional lives of your friends? Do you sometimes get in such a bad mood that even when a loved one tries to you out of it, you snap at them instead? Do you have any bad habits? Do you exercise every day and always eat a macrobiotic vegetarian diet? Do you sometimes eat junk food and like it?"

If you have just read the previous paragraph and found some of your own dysfunctional behaviors described, then you should know that you are not alone and that there are a large number of other adults and children who also share your condition.

Its etiology appears to be genetic as well as environmental. Yes, you too may be suffering from crippling "HUMANITY".

Being human is a condition that afflicts most persons and often prevents them from doing their best or from always feeling happy.

If you can identify with any of the above, then you too may find that you are suffering from the "Human Condition".

Although this syndrome is incurable, fatality does not usually occur until after approximately 75 years or so. No one can avoid its effects, although some are able to smile while it persists.

If you are having an especially difficult day it may encourage you to know that you are not alone and that many others may also get tired and stumble, but like you, will not quit the human race.

If you would like to anonymously inquire about issues regarding yourself or your acquaintances, you may do so by writing to Dr. Boltson. You don't even have to give your name or address. Just mail all questions to:

Raider Log

By Beth Buchanan

The Raider's are on vacation; however, there's been lots of action the past week and much more upcoming to plan for. Everyone will be back at work at 7:25 a.m. Monday, the 19th. The following are some of the events:

Report Cards

A reminder that report cards were issued on April 8. The administration and teachers hope that parents/guardians did check their student's results, including absences and conduct grade. GCCHS has and wants concerned adults to support the educational program and the involved students.

The honor roll list will be given in a future issue.

Educational Fair

On April 7th the annual Educational Fair was held in the gym and the media center to recognize special projects from various departments in the school. The highlight of the evening was the speech given by Attorney Willie Gary, featured in the Sun two weeks ago and nicknamed the "Rags to Riches" lawyer. Mr. Gary challenged students to strive for their goals and excel through hard work and perseverance. Mr. Gary's delivery inspired nearly everyone in the audience to do better.

Student body president Jamie Brown presented Mr. Gary with a certificate of appreciation for taking the time and effort to inspire all present.

The concert band, directed by Mr. Willie Pyfrom, pleased the audience with several selections as did Mr. Lawson's rendition of "The Greatest Love of All." At the end of the program, guests viewed the projects and displays in the main media center and were treated to refreshments prepared by Mrs. Watt's home economics classes.

Mrs. Deborah Hiett chaired the event with support from Mrs. Gaylia Echols, Mrs. Myrtle Clayton, Mrs. Carolyn Watts, Mrs. Robert Bennett, Mr. Jay Seider, Mrs. Betty Morris, Ms. Susan Machock and Mr. Leo Daniliv, among others.

Some of the award winners were senior Zenita Dawson, who swept honorable mention, first and second place in home economics and Clothing Life Management Skills and junior Sharon Ricketts who swept the computer category with all three awards.

In drama, sophomore Roger Williams placed first and in speech Jason Adams earned a second and Shomari Sanford a first. In drafting, honorable mention went to Juvenio Rivera, second to Augustin Lara and first to Larry Ozuna.

Junior/senior social studies awards went to Mirna Alpizar, Beth Buchanan and Nataria Baker, respectively.

The ninth and tenth grade social studies awards were given to Vanisha Browning, Gaia Dixon and Alexa Lutz.

Robbie Higgins won first place in electronics. The group of Snowie Austin, Amanda Dyal, Kizzy Frazier, Cassandra

Parker, Huntley Nicholson and Daelyn Hicks won a first in management skills. More Raider winners in upcoming columns.

Upcoming Events

Immediately upon returning to school, GCCHS sophomores will take the GTAT, a standardized reading and math test. Get those number 2 pencils ready.

The Academic Breakfast for the third nine weeks is scheduled for Wednesday, April 21st in the annex cafeteria. Students earning high grades for the nine weeks will be treated: Mr. Jan Peterson is the chairperson for the program.

The next day, April 22nd, the annual career day will be held with various community businesses represented. Ms. Alma Henry occupational specialist, supervises the event.

Meanwhile, preregistration for the 1993/1994 school year will begin, and continue the following week, through English classes.

Counselors will visit classes armed with credit summaries and advice to help students select courses for the upcoming year.

Spring sports continue with the Gold Coast Conference track meet set for Friday at home. By then everyone will be ready to celebrate the Black Gold Jubilee on the weekend!

April is Earth Month

Yesterday, April 21st, was "Earth Day." Did everyone do his part to save the earth by recycling? The entire month is devoted to promoting environmental awareness. The Solid Waste Authority has dozens of suggestions for the betterment of our environment; it's just up to each individual to help out. Please do your part.

HEADACHES

Also called sick headaches, a typical migraine attack, begins with a dull throbbing ache in one area of the head and progresses to a piercing pain. These tortuous attacks may be preceded by a change in the field of vision - a flickering before the eyes, flashes of light or a partial blocking of the vision. They are sometimes accompanied by nausea or vomiting. They are seldom relieved by aspirin. Their duration is from 2 to 48 hours.

E.M.H. recognizes laboratory professions

Everglades Memorial Hospital will be celebrating Medical Laboratory Week, April 11-17th.

The want to remind the public - patients and potential patients - that medical laboratory professions are the detectives of disease, as suggested by the 1993 Lab Week theme, "Your Laboratory: Where the Investigation Begins," said Robert Koper, Assistant Laboratory Supervisor at Everglades Memorial Hospital.

"Almost everyone has had a medical test - more than 9 billion tests are now performed each year - yet most people are unaware that trained professionals perform the tests and often play a major role in saving lives," Mr. Koper continued. The laboratory professions at Everglades Memorial Hospital want to increase public awareness of the vital contributions that laboratory professions make to health care.

"Diagnosing health problems can be a real challenge," Koper said. "Everglades Memorial Hospital's state of the art laboratory equipment allows us to make quality and timely diagnostic tests. These diagnostic investigations into changes in blood, urine, or body cells, may be the key to detecting problems in time to take preventative actions or intervene in the earliest and most treatable stages of the disease." The community is invited to join Everglades Memorial Hospital during the week of April 11 through 17th by saluting the laboratory professionals serving the Glades communities in this important work.

Konchellah honored

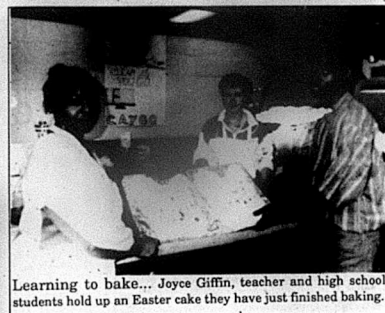

Cartheda Taylor Konchellah founder, chief executive officer and currently president of the Zora Neale Hurston Roof Garden Museum, Inc. of Belle Glade is the Florida Atlantic University IMPAC Award for Arts and Culture.

The awards were presented at the 5th Annual IMPAC Awards Banquet held Sunday, April 4th at the Deerfield Beach Hilton. IMPAC, "Individuals Making Personal and Academic Contributions" Awards Ceremony is designed to recognize individuals and organizations who have contributed to the development and lives of minority students as they matriculate through programs at Florida Atlantic University.

Mrs. Konchellah was among 10 recipients of the prestigious annual awards; however, she was the only recipient from the Glades area. Konchellah who conceived the Mucksteppers Reunion, Palm Beach county's only annual storytelling conference, also conceived and developed "Lengo Festival", an African-diaspora fine arts festival presented in 1990, during her tenure as executive director of the Palm Beach county Minority Cultural Consortium. She was principal coordinator for the 1990 African-American Native American Arts Exhibition in West Palm Beach and has a history of innovative cultural initiatives on behalf of the African-American population, both locally and nationally.

The former Boston University instructor, serves on the board of the Minority Cultural Consortium, the Vinnette Carroll Repertory Theater in Ft. Lauderdale and the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center in Belle Glade and is president of Glades Alumnae Chapter, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority. She resides in Belle Glade with her husband, Larry Konchellah and four daughters: Station, Reson, Moiro and Soila.

Learning to bake... Joyce Griffin, teacher and high school students hold up an Easter cake they have just finished baking.

Where business and fun mix at West Tech

The commercial foods class, under the direction of instructor Joyce Griffin, has become an integral part of the school food service at West Technical Education Center.

Mrs. Griffin is a Certified Home Economist and a member of the American Home Economics Association. To maintain this status requires a systematic program of continuing education and professional development.

Her commitment and dedication, was recognized recently when she was nominated as "Teacher of the Year" and became one of the finalists in Palm Beach County.

The class is made up of both adults and high school students from varied socio-economic backgrounds. Mrs. Griffin recognizes the need to provide a variety of "hands on" food preparation tasks in order to create a program that would meet the state curriculum requirements and, at the same time, provide meaningful training for all students.

To supplement the funding provided for the program, Mrs. Griffin agreed to work with school food service in preparing the lunches served daily in the center's cafeteria. Students are now able to prepare quality foods and do real work in an environment resembling a job site.

Students learn about meeting deadlines, while preparing nutritionally balanced meals and serve approximately one hundred and fifty full meals daily.

Rotating assignments allows each student to experience all phases of food preparation. Following the school food service guidelines for packing, service presentation, school food service, state handlers code of safety and sanitation has proven an invaluable teaching tool.

Mrs. Griffin and her class also prepare gourmet lunches for school advisory committees and other school functions. The dual benefit to students and staff "has been the high quality and tasty lunches served daily and the appreciation of guests attending West Tech's luncheon meetings."

A number of students are placed on jobs in the "On the Job Training," OJT, program, prior to completing the program. High school students who participate for two years receive a vocational certificate, in addition to a high school diploma, and often return as adults to complete their certificate in commercial foods.

The eighteen hundred hour program rates high in job placement, due to local demand for food service workers in local agencies, including public schools and hospitals, as well as restaurants and other food service business.
